Oxford BHF CRE Annual Research Symposium 2019 on Thursday 3rd October
St Catherine's College, Oxford

Call for poster abstracts, deadline Wednesday 28th August \(12 noon\)

Poster abstract submission guidelines

- Abstracts must be submitted using the Word template provided, limited to one A4 page. Please adhere to the set margins and font size, and submit as a Word document (not PDF)
- State the abstract title, followed by authors' names and departmental affiliations
- Indicate the presenting author using an asterisk and whether they are a DPhil student, postdoc or fellow and whether clinical / non-clinical.
- Abstracts should include these clearly identified sections: research rationale (written for a non-specialist audience), methodology, results and conclusions
- Citations in the text should be numbered sequentially and kept to a minimum
- A figure should be included if appropriate
- We encourage the inclusion of a graphical abstract, which is a single-panel image designed to give non-specialised readers an immediate understanding of the poster's take-home message
- Email abstracts to BHFCREabstracts@rdm.ox.ac.uk

Abstracts are selected on the basis of quality and overall balance shown across the BHF CRE Four Themes.

NEW THIS YEAR: Ten abstracts will be chosen for a brief one-slide (3-minute) 'my poster' introduction by the presenter in the main lecture theatre.

We can display a maximum of 50 posters requesting that a maximum of two from within large research groups are submitted.

Poster authors will be informed of the selection outcome by Tuesday 10th September.

At the Symposium posters are judged by the following criteria:

- Innovation and impact of the research presented
- Excellence of presentation of the work and results
- Clarity of discussion between the presenting author and the poster judges

There will be a prize for the best student poster and the best non-student poster.

Any questions should be directed to Philippa Major or Watkins PA
